COUNTY SHERIFF RESIGNS POSITION

Seen & Heard Around Murray

As long as there are final exams there will be prayers in our schools. . . Beldenews.

Local teachers have attended all kinds of workshops, seminars, institutes, and regular school work on the graduate level during this summer.

The demand is growing constantly for teachers to improve themselves, no matter at what level they might be.

The middle of this month Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Crouch, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. McCoy attended a workshop in Paducah on new ways to teach elementary science.

The week before Mrs. Wither, Mrs. Grogan, Mrs. Story, Mrs. Farris, Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Underwood attended a similar seminar in Paducah on initial teaching Alphabet.

These are only two such workshops attended by teachers. Mrs. Polly Bryant and some more teachers attended an ETV workshop in Louisville.

We would not attempt to name all the teachers who have attended some type of program which was designed to make them more proficient in their field.

We note that counseling is an integral part of the school system now. What an improvement and what a boon to the student. The only counseling we receive.

Student Aid Hits Total Of $722,423

Financial aid to students at Murray State University through three federal government programs administered entirely by the school totaled $722,423 during fiscal year 1967-68. According to Johnny McDougal, coordinator of student financial aid at MSU, 1065 students participated in the three programs — National Defense loans, educational opportunity grants and college work-study. "Because some students are involved in more than one program," he noted, "we actually had a total representation of 1,551, an increase of 100 from the year before."

McDougal, who administers seven aid programs in all, said the big comparative increase was in the educational opportunity grants. Grant amounts during the last fiscal year more than doubled the figure for the previous year — $154,550 to $76,300.

Ranging from $200 to $800, a

Czechs Strike In Protest Of Occupation

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI) — Czechoslovaks today staged a 15 minute general strike to protest the week-long occupation by Soviet bloc forces. In Prague's main square they drowned out with jeers Russian loudspeaker commands for obedience. Angry Russian tank crews replied to the jeering with bursts of machine gun bullets over the heads of the crowds in Wenceslas Square. No more did Czechoslovaks argue with the invaders they once called comrades. Today they stood back and shouted abuse at the Russians — and the Russians did not like it.

In what U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam called a Soviet "haphazard" reaction to Czechoslovak defiance, the Russians even threw an armed force up against the American Embassy for 45 minutes. ### Poor Health Given As His Reason; Wife Is Sworn In Cohen Stubblefield, sheriff of Calloway County, has resigned his position effective September 1, 1968, according to a letter to Calloway County Judge Hall McCuiston.

His wife, Mrs. Fannie Stubblefield, who has served as his deputy, will be sworn in as sheriff of Calloway County on September 1 to fill the unexpired term of her husband.

Sheriff Stubblefield said in his letter that he was resigning due to ill health and he did not feel that he can perform the duties of the office; therefore it would be to the best interest of the citizens of Calloway County that he resign.

Mr. Stubblefield said he had enjoyed his associations with each county official and wished to express appreciation to everyone for the fine cooperation received by him and that he deeply regretted that he must now resign as sheriff of Calloway County, Ky.

Stubblefield was elected to his first term as sheriff of Calloway County in 1957 and served from 1958 to 1961.

In 1965 Stubblefield became the second man in the history of Calloway County to be elected to the office of sheriff for the second term. The other man elected to a second term was the late Carl Kingins. His present term of office will end December 31, 1969.

Stubblefield became ill the first part of the year and was a patient for a month at the Parkview Hospital at Nashville, Tenn., starting March 26. Later he was a patient for a month at the Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., for a month. Since that time he has been a patient at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital several times.

Before being elected to the office of sheriff, Stubblefield served as deputy sheriff for a year for Sheriff Wayne Flora and all four years during the term of Sheriff Brigham Futrell whose term as sheriff expired in 1957.

During Stubblefield's first term as sheriff his deputies were Mrs. Stubblefield, Hardy Kelso, Vernon Roberts, and Lowry Parker.

Hardy Kelso, Curt Willoughby, and Mrs. Stubblefield are the present deputy sheriffs for Mr. Stubblefield.

Stubblefield and his wife were employed at the Atomic Plant, Paducah, during its construction. He served four years in the Army during World War II and was stationed at Newfoundland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stubblefield were married February 13, 1929. They lived on a farm in Calloway County for a while after their marriage and were later employed in Akron, Ohio, and Detroit, Mich., before he entered the Army during World War II.

Stubblefield is the son of the late Virge and Lucy Wilkerson Stubblefield of Calloway County. Mrs. Stubblefield is the former Fannie Grogan Hendon, daughter of the late Billy and Ollie Grogan Hendon of the county.

They have two sons, Jackie (Continued on Page Six)

McCuiston Of Calloway FFA Has Champion

Glen McCuiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCuiston of Murray Route Five and a member of the Calloway County High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America, showed the senior champion and grand champion aged cow, Inka Dean Velvet, in the FFA Division of the Kentucky State Fair, Louisville.

The animal was also judged the best breed animal of the show.

Other placings were: Aged cow, second, owned by Kent McCuiston, and four year old, third, owned by Glen McCuiston.

Glen also showed a senior calf that placed fourth and Kent showed a two year old that placed fourth.

Kent and Glen are brothers and have an interest in one of the best Holstein herds in western Kentucky.

Glen is a sophomore and Kent is a senior at Calloway County High School this year. Kent is the president of the Calloway chapter of the FFA.

TV CAMEOS: Lloyd Thaxton New Talent for TV? It'll Grow Its Own

By MEL HEIMER
VAUDEVILLE is dead, repository has only a faint spark of life, in it, nightclubs have thinned out — and so, wherever TV producers congregate, they ask one another "Where's the new talent for television coming from?"
Lloyd Thaxton has an answer; from TV itself, where else?
There are 13 network variety shows announced for the fall season, "and if they don't find some new faces for these programs, we'll be seeing the same ones over and over on all 13," says the personable Thaxton, "and if they don't find some new faces for these programs, we'll be seeing the same ones over and over on all 13."
As host of "Showcase '68," which NBC is offering as its summer replacement for Jerry Lewis' wacky solo summer, "Charley," Lloyd is doing his share in uncovering newcomers to the magic eye. Originating from a different city each week, the show is giving opportunity to lots of fresh new acts, but Thaxton is quick to point out it's not amateur night.
"THESE ACTS are professional," he says, "we've never had national TV exposure. They are pros who are pre-selected by our talent scouts, and the best of them all will be on a one-hour special on Sept. 3. Our biggest thrill is that producers of next season's variety shows already are snaring some of our people."
And so they are. The Craig Hindley trio showcased its jazz sound on "Showcase" and was booked immediately for the Johnny Carson show, and comic George McKelvey was signed for a fall Dean Martin program.
Thaxton has a track record for this kind of thing: When he had his own syndicated show for five years, over more than 90 stations, he gave breaks to Roger Miller, Trini Lopez, Herb Alpert and Sonny and Cher.
According to Thaxton, the Danny Kayes, Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, etc. who first became known in the Catskill Mountain resorts "the famous borscht belt" wouldn't be able to break in that way today.
"Those resorts today are forced by competition to book only top-name stars," he explains.
For "Showcase," Lloyd, producer Bob Stivers and a 22-man staff fanned out across the country to uncover new talent.
Primarily, they found singers, comedians and musical acts. They vow that of the 100 applicants they auditioned in May alone, there wasn't one magician, juggler or acrobat in the player.
"ACTUALLY, THEY checked out 3,500 performers to get 40 acts for the summer series."
"Even if you had a staff of 750,000," Thaxton sighs, "you'd probably never get to see every act. It took us three months to pick the 40 acts we chose. May, if 'Showcase' is extended past the summer, we can get to see more of them."
Lloyd is a native of Toledo, Ohio, where he started with a TV show featuring a piano and a parakeet named Sanford. "I did skits and interviews and even sang a little," he says. "But the parakeet got all the mail."

Lloyd Thaxton congratulates Andrea Marcovic, one of the bright new faces he's unearthed.

Oh, where he started with a TV show featuring a piano and a parakeet named Sanford. "I did skits and interviews and even sang a little," he says. "But the parakeet got all the mail."

A GRADUATE of Northwestern, he turned to radio announcing because he wanted to get into show biz and "didn't consider myself talented enough to be a performer," a blunt diagnosis that some other announcers would be wise to remember.
During the five years of the Lloyd Thaxton Show, our boy built a solid audience between the ages of 15 and, say, 25. That audience today is now in the 20 to 35 range, and allows the "Showcase" producers to fish for commercials that sell products costing real money, such as cars and TV sets, rather than greasy kid stuff going for 29 cents a tube.

New Service Offered By South Central

Telephone users in the Murray exchange area will be connected with a new service beginning September 3, when they dial 911, the phone company's number for "Information." Instead of hearing the familiar response, "Information," subscribers will be greeted with, "Directory Assistant, Miss Jones." And from then on, information service will be known as Directory Assistance.
The new name more accurately describes the type of service offered, according to R. K. Carpenter, South Central Bell manager in Murray. Mr. Carpenter said that the whopping 128,093 information calls handled on an average day in Kentucky last year were more than double the number handled in 1960. And more than 75 percent of the calls were for telephone numbers already listed in the directory.
According to Carpenter, the term, "Information" is misleading to telephone subscribers. "We call the service Information, so people take us literally," he said.
The operators are asked to supply information about everything from the weather report to who won the 1943 World Series. Youngsters have been known to ask, "Where is my Daddy?"
A fact overlooked by most people is that it is actually faster to look up the desired number in the telephone directory than it is to call information. The average caller, under the mistaken impression that he is saving time, ignores his phone book and asks the operator to look the number up for him. As a result, information operators are often so busy meeting unnecessary requests that they's motive have difficulty in providing customers who have a real need for help with the direct personal service they should receive. Studies of the effect of the Directory Assistance Program in Louisville, where it was introduced in April of this year, and other cities show that the number of calls to "Information" have been reduced from 3 to 5 per cent within a month after its introduction.
Operator training under the Directory Assistance concept will begin on September 3, and will continue for about two weeks. Operators will be trained in small groups in consecutive sessions during the transition period. Therefore, during this two week period, there will be operators answering both "Information" and "Directory Assistant, Miss Jones."

U.S. Astronauts May Also Train In Australia's Comet Crater Area

By ARTHUR SCHOLLES
Central Press Association
Correspondent
SYDNEY, Australia—United States astronauts may include training in Central Australia next year as part of their curriculum to familiarize themselves with the type of terrain they are likely to encounter on the Moon.
Geologists think that a comet crater in the Northern Territory has the same type of surface that Yank astronauts will encounter in their voyages to the Moon.
THE COMET crater is at Gosses Bluff, 130 miles from Alice Springs, N.T., and is believed to be one of only two comet craters on Earth. The other is in Siberia.
Gosses Bluff is estimated to be many millions of years old. The bluff rises 900 feet above the surrounding plains and has a sandstone rim. The shallow crater has a depth of 150 feet. The entire area is 12 miles across and the central crater is 2 1/2 miles wide.
AN aerial photograph taken during the American Gemini flight over Australia in 1965 showed the huge Gosses Bluff. The picture interested U. S. geologists and scientists.
Two scientists attached to the U. S. geophysical survey team in Australia, Dr. Daniel Milton and Dr. Robin Brett, have recommended to N.A.S.A. that U.S. astronauts should visit Gosses Bluff for training purposes.
Australia seems certain to get one of the three largest space tracking stations in the world. It will probably cost $18 million and will be paid for by the U.S.
The station will be designed by the U.S. Army Research Office, Miss Jones.
The Directory Assistant, like the old Information Operator, will locate telephone numbers not yet listed in the directory, or hard-to-find numbers. And if a subscriber calls to request a number already listed, she will courteously provide the number, and then remind him that the number can be located in his directory.
And for any subscriber who needs one, the Directory Assistant will provide an extra telephone book!

The Honeyuckle Creek Space Station near Canberra, Australia.

on the lines of the highly successful 210-foot wide radio telescope operated by Australian government scientists at Parkes, New South Wales.
The U. S. has established a chain of six tracking stations in Australia. The new station will form a network with a new station in Spain, and one already built in the U. S.
THE new station will be manned by Australians under the same arrangements with the Department of Supply as the three other tracking stations in the Australian Capital Territory (Canberra). Tidbinbilla, Honeyuckle Creek and Ororral Valley.
The new space telescope is likely to be built near Canberra.
Committees of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives had authorized a budget of $32 million to build the stations in Spain and Australia, but this did not necessarily mean that money was available. A decision by the congressional appropriations committee is being awaited.
The 210-foot antenna would give contact with space probes up to 250 million miles—the present limit is 160 million miles—and more data could be captured.
He said the planned station would also research the makeup of the universe and the mysterious quassars, which had first been discovered from Parkes observatory several years ago.

1000th Holiday Inn Opens In Texas

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Do-it-yourselfers, beware—especially if you're thinking about adjusting the carburetor idle speed on your 1968 automobile. It's likely to cost you more money than you think you can save. Idling adjustment, once a relatively simple procedure, now is a delicate operation, according to experts at ACP's Carburetor division.
The new anti-smog carburetor, an integral part of the 1968 car's emission control system now required by law, has been precisely calibrated and permanently set at the factory. From that point on it should be adjusted only by a qualified mechanic.
"We are especially proud to honor this inn because it represents an important date in our system's growth since its founding in 1952," the innkeeper continued.
"The Holiday Inn international system is the world's largest motor-hotel organization with inns located in 49 states, Canada, the Caribbean and Europe."
"Here at the Holiday Inn of Murray we can make free instant reservations for any of these locations which our residents may wish to visit, including the 1000th Inn" he concluded.

WRINKLES

by Marie Davani
NEW YORK: Chemical science has found a white substance with quicksilver that works wonders on wrinkled, roughened face and hands. Use it one time and it is entirely possible you will see improvement next morning. In a few days dry skin wrinkles start to vanish. Many of the small ones around the eyes and mouth have already disappeared. But that is not all. Old-Age (weathered) brown spots on hands and arms, brown "age" darkness on surface of face and neck fades away. Rich red lips and other aging signs disappear. What adolescents need — First of all, the adolescent needs love and security. Young people are never so much in need of love and understanding as when they are the most unlovable. Nothing can take the place of the security given young people by the feeling that no matter what happens their parents love them. Adolescents need to be accepted in their own group. People of all ages need friends and a sense of belonging, but is most intense in adolescent. Young people are copy-cats, they want to be like each other. Adolescents need recreation and also responsibility and freedom. Young people do not thank adults for being kept dependent. Teenagers need experience in decision making and a share in planning. — Miss Irma Hamilton.

Mrs. Paul Dailey Teaches Book For Elm Grove WMS

Mrs. Paul Dailey, Sr. of Hazel was the guest teacher for the book study held by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Elm Grove Baptist Church on Thursday, August 22, at ten o'clock in the morning at the church.

"Breathe-On Me" was the opening song by the group. "Spiritual Life Development" was the title of the book taught by Mrs. Dailey who read the scripture from John 15:1-8, followed by prayer.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Maudie Hale.

A potluck luncheon was served at the noon hour with Mrs. Keys Keel asking the blessing. Others present were Mrs. Bessie Colson, Mrs. Alvin Futrell, Mrs. Alfred Keel, Mrs. Charles Burkeen, Mrs. Walton Fulkerson, Mrs. Thannie Parker, Mrs. Hilda Maupin, Mrs. George Cossey, Mrs. Jesse Roberts, Mrs. Harry Shekell, and Mrs. Earl Lee.

Mrs. Pittman Honored At Shower At Harrell Home

Mrs. Danny Pittman, nee Patsy Falwell, was the honoree at a bridal shower held on Tuesday, August 13, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening at the lovely home of Mrs. Jamie Harrell on the Green Plains Road.

The gracious hostesses for the event were Mrs. Clifford Farris, Mrs. Keys Farris, Mrs. Edward Hendon, and Mrs. Harrell.

Mrs. Pittman chose to wear for the occasion a pale blue dress overlaid with white lace. A bow of blue velvet complemented the A-line styling. She was presented a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums by the hostesses.

Her mother, Mrs. Otis Falwell, was dressed in a two piece blue knit while her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hubert Pittman, wore a two-piece dress of pale green.

The recent bride was assisted in opening her gifts by Miss Diane Pittman and Miss Debbie Harrell.

Mrs. Junior Pittman and Mrs. Tommy Vance served the guests from the beautifully appointed table. Party cakes decorated in yellow, lime sherbert, mints, and nuts were served. Napkins with the names, "Patsy and Danny" imprinted on them were used.

Approximately thirty-five persons were present or sent gifts.

Mrs. Burkeen Is Leader At Meeting

The circle meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Elm Grove Baptist Church was held on Wednesday, August 21, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening at the church.

Mrs. Charles Burkeen was the leader for the program on "The Influence of Baptist Schools". Others taking part in the program were Mrs. Earl Lee, Mrs. Walton Fulkerson, Mrs. Mason Thomas, and Mrs. George Cossey.

Mrs. W. A. Farmer gave the call to prayer from I John 2:15-29. Mrs. Lee Morris led in prayer. Mrs. Keys Keel was another member present.

Two visitors were Mrs. Lee Morris and Little Miss Shellie Howell.

The proper tools make home sewing easier, faster and more pleasant to do. One of the most important tools is the Scissors or Shears. One should purchase the best shears she can afford. The shears should be made of good metal that will keep a sharp edge, be fastened together with a screw rather than with a rivet. Shears at least seven inches long with one handle larger than the other are best for cutting garments. Smaller scissors 3 to 4 inches long are preferred for trimming, cutting threads, etc. Shears especially designed for the left hand-

Fall Shoe Shapings

Feature The Higher Heel

By TAD ROWADY

FROM all indications the high heel is back in fashion especially for late-day and evening wear. But spike-and-spindle heel devotees don't be too gleeful for the new high heel is as different from the spikes and spindles as — to quote the Leather Industries of America — a Democrat from a Republican.

The higher heel is causing much excitement but since the lower ones are still favorites for daytime wear, a wardrobe of heels seems to be mandatory. There are all sorts of looks — from an architectural to a renaissance look — but mainly heels are thick and chunky and sometimes pinched or curved in at the back to give the illusion of the old thin heel.

As for the rest of the shoe silhouette toe lines remain for the most part rounded with a variety of widths from the broadest baby doll to a slimmer more elongated curve. Most popular are the "up front" and the covered-up in-step look.

The real leathers used are myriad in both texture and color. They include smooth, genuine patent leather, suede, cowhides — brushed, split, embossed and grained and the new hand-stained "wild" leathers. One of the newest looks dating back to the twenties and thirties is the

WHAT'S NEW

By United Press International
A new white acrylic filler looks and feels like ceramic tile yet it can be squeezed from a tube. The plastic rubber compound will not shrink, crack or pull out, the manufacturer says. The white also stays white. The material is highly resistant to mildew and discoloration. The product is suggested to fill cracks and crevices both indoors and out. The manufacturer said it is highly effective as a caulking and waterproofing filler around sinks, tubs and plumbing fixtures. (Sapolin Paints Inc., 201 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y.).

A new vacuum bottle is expected to make obsolete the old-fashioned tin-type bottles that have been on the market for over 60 years. The new bottles get their wearability from the use of virtually indestructible polypropylene plastic for the outer jacket that protects the bottle's glass vacuum-insulated filler. (Aladdin Industries Inc., 703 Murfreesboro Rd., Nashville, Tenn.).

Moth Precaution
NEW YORK (UPI) — Moths commonly enter the home as larvae within opened or damaged packages, the National Pest Control Association reports. Any package in which moths or larvae are found should be thrown away. Keeping dried foods or fruit in glass or metal containers, tightly sealed, is a simple and sensible precaution.

when she started to read some of the stuff the kids wrote in it. Well, one of my friends, who happens to be a very nice girl, wrote, "Have a bitchin' summer." When my mother saw that she flew into a rage and hit the ceiling. Abby, "bitchin'" doesn't mean to us kids what it means to the older generation. There is nothing dirty about it. My mother can't believe it, so please, do me a favor and explain that "bitchin'" — when used by the kids today means, "groovy, neat or cool." Thank you. — NOT BELIEVED

DEAR NOT: Much as I dislike the word when used by kids to describe the ultimate, it does mean what you say it does. But don't ever use it to describe your mother — no matter how "groovy, neat or cool" you think she is.

DEAR ABBY: Your reply to the Man Next Door about the violin-playing 10-year-old missed the mark entirely. [You told the complaining neighbor to keep his windows closed and buy an air-conditioner.]

The VIOLIN-PLAYER'S PARENTS should keep their windows closed and buy an air-conditioner. The perpetrators of any nuisance noise should be required by law to keep their noise IN, or to stop it altogether.

There is entirely too much tolerance of nuisance noise in the U. S. A. today. In many European countries they are so strict about nuisance noise that all apartment houses are required by law to be soundproofed.

Many experts have testified that noise is as evil a kind of "pollution" as water and air pollution. It's not only nerve-racking, it's a menace to one's health. Anyone interested in knowing the names of the above-mentioned "experts," may write to Congressman Ted Kupferman, who has been sponsoring a bill on Noise Control.

BEN F. LAPOSKY: CHEROKEE, IOWA

DEAR BEN: Amen! Tell Rep. Kupferman that the "noise" he just heard is Abby, cheering for his bill.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to "MOTHER OF SEVEN," who said "the world would be a lot better off if people would learn to love the children they get, rather than take pills to keep from having them."

A person does not have to "learn to love" a wanted child. The "love" is already there. Also, some people may develop love for unwanted children, it can never be as natural and free from prejudice. One cannot be taught, forced or shamed into loving.

That woman with seven children is a greater threat to the human race than the bomb. While she is busy overrunning this tiny planet she has the nerve to encourage others to follow her example. C. M. J.: SANTA CLARA, CALIF.

Lynn Stranak

Murray State University will take to the baseball field next year without the services of a very fine local athlete.

Lynn Stranak has transferred to Union University at Jackson, Tennessee, one of the top schools in Western Tennessee, both in academics and in sports.

Lynn attended Murray State for two years and for the two years he carried a 3.79 overall scholastic average, while majoring in math.

He has played baseball in just about all stages for the past 13 years, including Little League, Pony and Colt League, High School, American Legion, and he is now playing in the Twin States League.

In the Twin States League he is batting .520 for the 16 games they have played, and carries a pitching record of 3 wins and no losses, with an ERA of 1.00.

Lynn is getting a combined academic and baseball grant in aid at Union, and from what I hear they were more than happy to give him both to get him to transfer.

We wish Lynn the best of luck, and hope that you will keep in touch with us, so that we can keep the sports fans and your friends in this area posted on you from time to time.

The Murray High Tigers In Practice

Coach Ty Holland and his 1968 Tiger team has been on the practice field for a couple of weeks, but I just got around to watching them last Thursday.

I think they are going to have one of the best teams they have had, if they can stay off the sick bed. There have already been two who have been sidelined due to illness, but both should be in there by a week from this Friday when they take to the field in the first game of the season against Crittenden County.

The Black and Gold will play two of their biggest rivals, Mayfield and Paducah, at home this year. Both teams should be improved this year, and both games should provide the fans with some fine football action.

Mayfield is the third game, played on September 20, and Tilghman comes to town on October 18.

Another big game this year will be with Russellville, but will be played in enemy territory on November 1st.

The team looked good, even in 95 degree weather, and with the sun beating down like a big fire. The spectators were sweating while they were sitting in the shade, and there was no shade on the practice field where the boys were.

Last week I ran a picture of the Yanks, who were champions of the Park League, or at least I thought I was running a picture of the Yanks. I got hold of the

Outfielder Colavito Pitches Yanks to Victory Over Tigers

By STU CAMEN

Rocky Colavito had good reason to feel right at home Sunday when he walked out to the pitcher's mound at Yankee Stadium.

Rocky Colavito

Colavito, born and raised only a mile from the stadium, took over for Steve Barber in the fourth inning of the first game against Detroit with the Yankees on the short end of a 5-0 score.

"Ralph Houk told me yesterday that I might be in the bullpen today," Colavito said, "and when I came to the park I checked with him and he said that's where he wanted me."

Sunday's doubleheader against the Tigers was the first of three twinbills in three days for the Yankees, who also played a two-night doubleheader Friday in which the second game was a 19-inning no-decision affair. With a schedule like that, Houk needs every available arm and Colavito, who had three innings of major league pitching experience under his belt, at least knew the general direction of the plate.

Gets First Win

Colavito came in with two men on base and proceeded to retire Al Kaline and Willie Horton without any further scoring. He pitched two more scoreless innings and eventually was rewarded with his first major league victory when the Yanks finally won 6-5.

The Yankees also won the second game 5-4 and reduced Detroit's once-commanding American League lead to only five games over second place Baltimore, as the Orioles struggled to a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox in 18 innings.

Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 10-2, Washington outlasted Cleveland 10-9 and California beat Oakland 5-1 in other AL games.

In the National League, St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 4-2, Los Angeles shaded San Francisco 5-4, New York topped Cincinnati 7-1, Chicago blanked Houston 2-0, and Philadelphia tripped Atlanta 4-1.

Colavito, playing right field in the nightcap, contributed to the Yanks' 12th win in 15 games when he slammed his 372nd lifetime homer to tie the score 3-3 in the third inning. Charley Smith's two-run single in the fourth snapped the tie and helped the Yanks even their season record at 63-63, the first time they have been at the .500 level since April 29.

Brooks Ends It

Brooks Robinson's two-out single in the 18th scored Boog Powell, who had doubled, for the Orioles winning run in their five hour and 27 minute marathon against the Red Sox. Roger Neeson pitched seven innings of two-hit relief ball to pick up his second win in three decisions while Jerry Stephenson went down to his eighth setback against two victories.

The Twins capitalized on 11 hits and some shoddy fielding by the White Sox, that enabled Jim Kaat to even his season record at 10-10. Errors by Tom McCraw and Ron Hansen in the fifth inning helped the Twins to two unearned runs without benefit of a hit.

Pinchhitter Tim Lincecum's two-out triple with the bases loaded in the seventh inning snapped a 7-7 tie and powered the Senators past the Indians in a game that saw both teams combined for 31 hits.

George Brunet's six-hit pitching and three RBIs by Bobby Knop enabled the Angels to end their four-game losing streak at the expense of the Athletics.

Jenkins Stops Waiting On Teammates, Gets Own Runs

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

Ferguson Jenkins has stopped waiting around for his teammates to get him some runs.

Ferguson Jenkins

The lanky Cub righthander, who in the early stages of the season lost four, 1-0 decisions, drove in the only run he needed to register his 15th victory of the year Sunday as Chicago blanked the Houston Astros 2-0.

In his drive to become a 20-game winner for the second straight year, Jenkins has reeled off seven victories since July 15, helping himself on four different occasions with key hits.

"I've got a real good shot at 20," Jenkins said after stopping the Astros on four hits. He is scheduled for eight more starts this season.

In other National League action, the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals downed Pittsburgh 4-2, New York stopped Cincinnati 7-1, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 5-4, and Philadelphia tripped Atlanta 4-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees swept the Detroit Tigers 6-5 and 5-4, Washington nipped Cleveland 10-9, Minnesota drubbed Chicago 10-2, California beat Oakland 5-1 and Baltimore edged Boston 3-2 in 18 innings.

Jenkins helped himself with the bat again Sunday when the Cubs rallied in the second inning. Al Spangler walked and raced to third on a single by Randy Hundley. The versatile Jenkins, who plays with the Harlem Globetrotters during the winter months, hit an infield grounder that enabled Spangler to score. The Cubs added their final run in the sixth on a single by Glenn Beckert, Billy Williams' double and a sacrifice fly by Willie Smith.

The Cardinals took advantage of four Pirate errors to score two unearned runs in the early innings as Nelson Briles, with relief help from Joe Hoerner, won his 17th game of the year.

An error by shortstop Fred Patek led to one run in the second inning and miscues by Maury Wills and Gary Kohlb in the fourth inning allowed another Cardinal run.

Tom Seaver stroked a two-run double in the seventh and hurled a five hitter for the Mets. Homers by Ed Kranepool and Art Shamsky gave the Mets an early 2-0 lead. Pete Rose, the leading hitter in the majors, with a .345 average, stretched his hitting streak to 15 games with a ninth-inning double.

Juan Marichal's wild throw set up Paul Popovich's game-winning sacrifice fly as the Dodgers broke a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning. Tom Haller started the rally with a single and advanced to third when Marichal's 25-6 fired Ron Fairly's sacrifice bunt into center field. After the bases were loaded, Haller was thrown out at the plate. But, Popovich then lifted a fly to center and Fairly beat

Blow It

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (UPI) — Decorating nowadays requires a lot of air. Just inflate your own vinyl chairs, you see. Each chair is equipped with an individual foot pump and will take approximately 12 minutes to inflate. The blowing up also can be done with a vacuum cleaner pipe.

The chairs, costing less than $60, were designed in Italy by four young architects. The Seilig Manufacturing, of Leominster, Mass., is importing them in yellow, red and crystal. In case of puncture, the chair can be repaired easily with epoxy cement and matching patches. In the shoe box package and sold with the deflated product.

Our Own Fault
NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — "Executive obsolescence," due to premature senility, is a common phenomenon in our society, Dr. Alton Ochsner informed the American Geriatric Society meeting here. He is surprised that it does not occur more often and much earlier in America since "we do everything possible to accelerate aging and encourage senescence."

"We have become a sedentary people who eat, drink, and smoke too much and exercise too little, only sporadically, or not at all," he said. Ochsner is professor emeritus at Tulane University School of Medicine.

ALMANAC

by United Press International
Today is Monday, Aug. 26, the 238th day of 1968 with 127 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history: In 1833, the great volcano at Krakatao in the Netherlands East Indies began erupting. Before it subsided the following day, two-thirds of the island was destroyed and an estimated 36,000 persons died.

In 1920, the 19th amendment went into effect, giving women the right to vote.

In 1948, Mildred Elizabeth Gillars, known as "Axis Sally," was flown to America to face charges of espionage and treason for wartime radio broadcasting for Germany.

In 1964, President Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey were nominated in Atlantic City to head the Democratic ticket in the November elections.

A thought for the day: German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer said, "Hatred comes from the heart; contempt from the head; and neither feeling is quite within our control."

About 460 pounds of paper is used per person each year in the United States.

The southern bald eagle differs from other migrants in that it nests during the winter.

Two presidents, John Tyler and Theodore Roosevelt, married on their birthdays.

Only four of the 29 presidents who were fathers had no boys—McKinley, Wilson, Truman and Lyndon Johnson.

Scorpions spend the hot desert days in hiding and come out at night to prey on anything small that crawls.

Going for Broke

NEW YORK (UPI)—Studies of persons in bankruptcy show that many of them are in financial straits because they have, over a long period of time, let relatively small debts accumulate until they were unmanageable.

The Institute of Life Insurance says the typical bankrupt person is not disadvantaged.

He's a man in the prime of his life—the mid-30s. He has a job, a wife and three children. He also has a reputation as a good father and husband.

Keep Your Cool

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you're jogging, here's a special comfort tip for you from track stars.

Under your jogging togs and inside your sneakers lavishly dust absorbent baby powder. Beauty experts say the soft powder will keep clothing from sticking and feet from burning.

Evidence that Indians were smoking pipes 4,000 years ago has been found in a prehistoric cave in Wyoming, says the National Geographic.

and Billy Joe Stubblefield. Jackie is employed by the Murray Division of the Tappan Company and is married to the former Janice Wallington of Trigg County who is an elementary school teacher at Faxon.

Billy Joe is a deputy marshal with headquarters at Paducah. He is married to the former Sara Clark of Trigg County and they have four children, Craig, age nine, Vicki, age eight, Allen, age six, and Lucy, age three.

Both of the Stubblefield sons served four years in the Air Force during the Korean War. Jackie's wife, Janice, has been assisting Mrs. Stubblefield at the home and office this summer.

Sheriff Stubblefield is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and Murray Lodge 105 Free and Accepted Masons. He attended school in Calloway County.

Mrs. Stubblefield is a member of the Church of Christ, Murray Star Chapter No. 432, Order of the Eastern Star, and the American Legion Auxiliary. The new sheriff to be, Mrs. Stubblefield, is a graduate of Murray High School and attended Murray State College.

Cook Scores Peden On Dodging Issues

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Republican senatorial candidate Marlow W. Cook Saturday charged his Democratic opponent with failure to discuss important national issues.

Speaking to a GOP rally in suburban Shively, Cook referred to Miss Katherine Peden, saying she concentrated too much on local or state issues. He named the Kentucky five-cent sales tax as one such issue.

The Jefferson County judge defended the sales tax and said it was necessary for most newly elected Republican governors to increase taxes. "To get his state out of a state of bankruptcy created by Democrat governors," he said.

The New York state tree is the sugar maple.

The National Automobile Club reports 15,610 Americans died on the highways in the first four months of 1968.

The official motto of California is "Eureka." Greek for "I have found it."

Santa Clara, Calif., is the "Pine Capital of the World."

The flower of the month for October is the calendula or cosmos.

No insect is named in the Bible.

Local Family Back After Long Tour Of State Features

Mrs. Evelyn V. Smith of New Concord and her children, David and Lisa, enjoyed a very interesting vacation touring Kentucky. They spent several days in Louisville enjoying the State Fair where both children participated in the 4-H Club Demonstrations, representing the Jackson Purchase Area in the Agronomy and Home Furnishings divisions.

Lisa, age 9, as Calloway County Fair Champion on her 4-H Club Geology exhibit was entitled to enter her exhibit at the State Fair and received a second premium red ribbon.

David, age 12, also very active in 4-H Club work, entered his First Year Entomology exhibit and received a second premium, red ribbon.

The family saw many of Louisville's attractions, the fountain at the State Capitol Building and grounds in Frankfort, Daniel Boone's gravesite area, then on to the historic town of Bardonia where they spent one night at the Old Stone Inn, built in 1779 during the Revolutionary War. During the latter part of the 18th Century, this Tavern was the Western end of the Stagecoach Road from Philadelphia and Virginia. It is now called "Talbot Tavern." Nearby they toured the St. Joseph Cathedral, completed in 1819 and "My Old Kentucky Home" on Federal Hill, where Stephen Collins Foster, while visiting his cousins, the Rowans, was inspired to write the famous ballad, "Judge John Rowan built this stately home in 1795 and four generations of Rowans reigned there until it was turned over to the Commonwealth of Kentucky for a State Park.

They later took the 4 mile hike through Mammoth Cave and visited many more interesting sites of historical and geological interest.

But, they said, after the 747 mile trip, the most beautiful sights of all were Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley. "We Calloway Countians are fortunate indeed to have the two lakes and the 170,000 acre Land Between the Lakes in our own immediate area," Mrs. Smith said.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH CENTER IN BOSTON. The Christian Science Church Center, now under construction, adds another feature to the new face of Boston. This model shows the 15-acre Center in its Back Bay setting. The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, is central to the triangular area. At the upper end of the long Conference Building (lower end of reflecting pool) will also be added. A new building for service functions will be attached to the Publishing House, which is located at the left of the Church. On the perimeter of the area, commercial structures and apartments will be erected by private developers. Beyond the Church Center is the Prudential Center and the projected John Hancock Building.

Svoboda, Communist Party Secretary Alexander Dubcek and other leaders from their just-concluded weekend talks with the leaders of the Kremlin in Moscow. They were expected later today.

Soviet troubles began with the general strike.

In Prague and in other cities Czechoslovaks rang their church bells, air raid sirens and auto horns in a din of defiance.

Russian troops swung their heads around in obvious nervousness. Czechoslovaks stopped all movement. They deserted the streets but took to the windows.

From office buildings, stores and apartment houses students, workers and government officials looked down on the Russians. They said nothing.

Earlier in the occupation the Soviet soldiers smoked cigarettes, read newspapers and even grinned at the antics of the Czechoslovaks. No more.

Today, the Russians swung their guns and glared. Some of them, youngsters, appeared a little frightened at the hatred Prague showed them.

In a suburban cemetery about 2,000 workers mustered for the funeral of a 27-year-old man killed by the Russians who seized the Prague television station late Tuesday. The orators at graveside praised the victim and poured hatred on the "aggressors."

After lowering the coffin into the grave, the crowd turned and boarded waiting trucks. Late Tuesday, the orators at graveside praised the victim and poured hatred on the "aggressors."

The trucks swung around a booth with an awning under which Czechoslovaks lined up to sign petitions proclaiming loyalty to Svoboda and Dubcek. At one end of the Square, Russian officer grabbed loudspeaker microphones.

They called for order. They called themselves the friends of Czechoslovakia and Czechoslovaks.

The answer came back in a roar from the crowd.

Women with shopping bags lined up outside Wenceslas Square food shops, jeered. The person signing the petitions and the long haired youngsters massed around the statue to Good King Wenceslas joined in and began denouncing the Russians in unison.

The Russians lowered their microphones. Some of the tank crews appeared almost to shrink back into their armored vehicles. Moments later the shooting started.

At the U.S. Embassy two U.S. Marine guards and a Russian-speaking diplomat chased away three Russians soldiers who had wandered onto the diplomatic ground that is a piece of America in Czechoslovakia.

Later, at 11:30 a.m. 6:30 a.m. EDT, two Soviet armored personnel carriers and a Red army truck rumbled up the hilly street to the embassy gate. Russian troops poured out and lined up in front.

For 45 minutes they stood their ground.

Then they left as hurriedly as they came.

The Development Council, composed of prominent business and professional men and women dedicated to the cause of Christian Higher Education, is designed to help Lambuth acquire the financial support necessary to carry out its developmental needs of the College.

Lambuth College President James S. Wilder, Jr., says, "The deferred gifts program is designed for those alumni and friends of the College who desire to make a substantial gift to higher education through Lambuth College, but do not prefer to do so out of current income. Bequests, annuities, trusts and insurance are mechanisms through which this desire may be accomplished. The college is able to cooperate with the donor and his attorney or tax advisor through this program, in the most advantageous planning of his estate."

The committee members are responsible for actively seeking deferred gift prospects; keeping informed on developments in the field of law and taxation which have a bearing on deferred gifts; assist in working with the Lambuth House of Representatives and other volunteers; and, seeking new members for the Lambuth Endowment Society, "Lambda Eta Sigma."

Dr. Etherton At Homecoming

Dr. Virgil Etherton of 201 North 5th, attended the 1968 annual Homecoming of Palmer College of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa.

He is among approximately 3,500 Palmer College alumni, wives and guests who participated in educational and social events in the year's largest gathering in the chiropractic profession.

Homecoming speakers included Art Buchwald, syndicated newspaper columnist and humorist; Dr. Herbert True of South Bend, Ind., nationally-known author, lecturer and research psychologist; Dr. Russell Ehardt of Milwaukee, Wis., lecturer on x-ray technology, and Dr. Graham Rockley of Prospect Heights, Ill., a lecturer for the federal government's Small Business Administration, who spoke on practice management.

Dr. Etherton, is a 1958 graduate of PCC.

SEEN & HEARD

ed when we attended school was a trip to the principals office where he whammed the daylight out of us.

He got his point across we can assure you.

We detected a whiff of Autumn this morning when we awoke to cool breezes which replaced the dry hot winds of the past several days. Last night at 10:00 p.m. it was 70. This is 10 to 14 degrees lower than the past two or three weeks at that time of night.

Sitting under a tree Saturday afternoon enjoying the shade when we see this Quail over by the road. Here he comes toward us, running for all he's worth. We figured he just did not see us, but apparently he did. He was heading for the shade of another tree and when he got there, he eyed us suspiciously. We just sat there looking at him too and apparently he figured we were harmless. We could see his throat moving in and out as he panted in the stifling heat. Birds are like dogs. They cannot perspire as humans do, so must pant, losing excess heat in this manner. People have pores all over their bodies, and by perspiring they rid themselves of heat and waste material.

Oddly enough however, horses perspire like we do.

The change in the weather this morning will make it easier on plants and trees, but they still need moisture.

We did not mow the yard last weekend for the first time this summer. In the first place the grass had not grown much and secondly, a close cutting in this weather will harm the grass. However we did a lot of watering, of new trees especially.

Cartoon in the Commercial Sunday showed a fellow leaving home wearing a gas mask and otherwise prepared for trouble. He obviously was a delegate to the Democratic Convention which opens today in Chicago behind barbed wire fences.

Things have come to a sad state when democratic processes have to be carried out behind barbed wire.

A built-in fault of the United Nations Security Council is the veto power of a single nation. Russia, using their 10th veto, prevented a censure of the Soviet Union for their invasion of Czechoslovakia. This one factor negates the work of this council.

Their veto presented a world body from expressing themselves on the invasion.

Mrs. Ralph Woods. The civic clubs and organizations of Murray and Calloway County are giving the dinner at Kenlake Hotel at 7:00 p.m. as a tribute to Dr. Woods who served 23 years as president of Murray State University. Mr. Hiram Tucker, Murray businessman, was originator of the plans for the banquet.

Mr. Waller was born and reared at Morganfield, Ky. He received his B.S. degree at Vanderbilt University and his LL.B. at Yale. After practicing law in Morganfield, he moved to Paducah in 1929. He has been a trustee of Paducah Community College since it was founded in 1932.

The Murray Chamber of Commerce is in charge of arrangements for reservations at the banquet. The Music Department of the Woman's Club will provide music for the dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. Woods are now living in their home on West Main Street in Murray. As President Emeritus, he is present.

Wallace Is Winner Of C-J Poll

Former Alabama Governor George Wallace was the final winner in the presidential preference poll conducted at the Kentucky State Fair by The Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times.

Wallace received 12,506 votes, or 46.7 per cent of the $26,783 votes cast in the non-scientific poll of fair goers. The polling ended Saturday, the last day of the fair.

In second place, with 7,256 votes, or 27.5 per cent of the total was Richard M. Nixon, Eugene McCarthy was third with 4,166 votes, or 15.6 per cent, and Vice-President Hubert Humphrey was last with 2,690 votes, or 10 per cent.

There were 147 write-in votes for other candidates.
